

Caring for the Nutritional Needs of Older Adults

COST IS KING...& I'M HOLDING THE JOKER

Description

In the ever-changing health care game, cost is king...and dietary professionals sometimes feel like they are left holding the joker. Learn how changes in the health care system impact our departments, and how to sell our worth to decision makers. More importantly, learn how to control food, labor and supply costs, and identify ideas for staff retention and increased efficiency. Don't be left holding the joker—Attend this interactive session and be a winner in the health care game!

Objectives for Cost is King...& I'm Holding the Joker

Participants will

1. understand the basic cause and affect of changes on health care costs
2. identify specific ways to control food, labor and supply costs
3. identify ideas for increased productivity and staff retention

Audience: Interdisciplinary

Audio-Visual Needs: Data projector, lapel microphone

Teaching Method: Lecture, discussion, participation, Power Point slides/handouts